NEW PLAN OF TAXATION

Mexico Will Fill Her Treasury by Robbing Americans.

Will Levy a Heavy Tax on All American Holdings of Mexican Mining Interests.

WASHINGTON, May 22—Word reaches Washington that Mexico is about to adopt a new plan for raising revenue by taxing all silver and gold mines in which American capital is heavily invested. Finance Minister Limaonton first suggested the plan to the budget committee and the latter accepted it and presented it to the chamber of deputies as part of the federal revenues for the current year. The proposed tax is estimated in the budget to yield $2,275,000, which makes it third item of importance in the Mexican revenues, being exceeded only by customs and internal revenue or stamp tax. The new tax is to be called an "extraction tax" It is 2½ per cent. on silver and 4½ on gold. It is to be paid on every species of the two precious metals, rough or refined. The collection is to be made at the metallurgical office on such metals as are for local use, and at the point of export metals sent abroad. The "extraction tax" is in addition to the charge for minting or coining. There are no exemptions, even in the case of special mining concessions or zones, granted by the government. Another prospective change affecting American interests is likely to result from the silver lead ore item of the last United States tariff act. It is not improbable that the old American rate of half cent per pound on the lead contained in silver—lead ore will be reimposed by Mexico. The rate was reduced to ¾ cent per pound by the United States act. A provision was added that in case a foreign country shall impose an export duty upon silver ores containing lead exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon such ores, when imposed from such country remains fixed by the law in force prior to the passage of the act. It is under this provision that the Mexican law is likely to be changed.

SILVER DISCUSSED.

It Becomes an Interesting Theme in the East.

President Andrews and Hon. Adams Make a Subject of Discussion—How They Feel Out West.

BOSTON, May 22—A largely attended meeting of the Mystic Valley club was held last night at the Quincy house. President E. B. Andrews, of Brown University, Providence, and Hon. Brooks Adams, of Quincy, spoke on "Honest Money." President Andrews delivered the principal address. He traced most of the disasters in the last twenty years to currency changes made in 1873.

DENVER, Col., May 22.—Congressman John F. Shafroth, republican, who has just returned from Salt Lake, where he attended the silver conference as delegate from Colorado, says if the democrats put a free silver candidate in the field for president and the republican party does not, it will be the duty of the republicans of this state to support the democratic nominee unanimously and heartily.

"The democracy is a great national party," he added, "and has a foothold over the country that a new party would not have, and by working jointly the republicans and democrats of the west would have a great chance of carrying the day for the candidate. I believe in giving my own political party the first opportunity to keep us in the fold, but if it does not come out in its platform for free silver plainly and unmistakable and with no loophole left to crawl out of the position, then I am going to leave the party and vote for the candidate, no matter what his politics may be, who will support and carry out the free silver principles. For these reasons I would have the delegates to the national conventions be instructed so that, should the national conventions refuse to champion the cause of silver, the delegations could leave the convention honorably and afterwards unite upon their own candidate. Let the east and the doubtful states construe it as a threat if they choose, I believe they should be made to understand our position at once and in plain terms."

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Senator John M. Palmer, of Illinois, called on the president today and told him about the silver situation in that state. Senator Palmer jokingly responded to the question as to whether the silver movement in Illinois had been arrested by saying that warrants were out for the movement, but the officers having the warrants had been unable to come up with it yet. The senator says that so far as the democratic convention, called to meet in June, is concerned, it is a foregone conclusion that the free silver plank will be adopted.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 22—The delegates to the "sound money" convention, which opens tomorrow morning, are arriving by every train and the hotel corridors are filled with well dressed and representative southern business men, exchanging greetings and discussing the money question and the probable course of the convention. The question as to who shall be the permanent chairman of the convention has not yet been decided and the committee who have the matter in hand decline to give out the names under consideration. The time at which Secretary Carlisle will speak tomorrow depends upon the length of the preliminary proceedings It is thought, however, that the speech will not be delivered before 4 p. m.

STARTLING DISCOVERY.

The Internal Revenue Laws Pronounced Unconstitutional.

Colonel Noble Smithson Declares That Those Laws Are Effected by the Supreme Court's Decision.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 22—The startling announcement is made by Colonel Noble Smithson, a Knoxville attorney, who has had much practice before the United States supreme court, that the decision of that court on the income tax, has also killed the internal revenue laws. In a carefully prepared opinion Colonel Smithson says: "Justice Fuller, in his opinion, says the 'constitution divides federal taxation into two classes—first direct taxes; second, imports and exceses, and that 'direct taxes must be apportioned among the several states in proportion to their representation in the house of representatives.' Apparently the legal result of this opinion is that all federal taxes, except duties of imports (that is to say taxes collected under the tariff laws), must be apportioned among the states according to their representation in the house of representatives The act of August 27, 1894 (Wilson bill), section 48, provides. "There shall be levied and collected on all distilled spirits, etc., a tax of $1.10 on each proof gallon.' The statutes of the United States levy a tax of 6 cents per pound on tobacco, etc. It seems clear that according to this opinion of Chief Justice Fuller that real estate and personal property are not being proportioned among the several states according to representation, they are unconstitutional and void. If this view be correct, the supreme court has not only wiped out the income tax, but has practically repealed the internal revenue laws as it affects tobacco, whisky, brandy, etc. If this construction of this opinion be correct, all direct taxes, including those of real and personal property, must be levied on according to representation, so that the rich people of New York, Massachusetts and other eastern states would pay no more tax per capita than the poorer people of the western and southern states. Of course that is not to be thought of. It would result that practically all the revenues to support the government must be raised by duties on imports and instead of reducing the tariff it will necessarily increase it materially."

WHEAT AWAY UP.

Goes Beyond the Seventy-five Cent Point.

The Advance Due to Continued Crop Damage Reports—Corn Firm in Sympathy.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Wheat started excitedly today and went over 75c before it reacted The advance resulted from the advance at Liverpool and continued crop damage reports. July opened 1c higher at 74⅝c, touched 74⅞c, sold to 75⅛c and reacted to 75c. Corn was firm in sympathy with wheat. July opened ¼c higher at 55½c, touched 55¾c and reacted to the opening price. Oats were steady with the larger markets. July opened ⅛c higher at 28⅝c and reacted to 28¼c.

LONDON, May 22—A dispatch to the Associated Press association from Glasgow today says: There is much excitement here in corn circles in consequence of the American hoisting values. Stocks here are very light. Flour has been advanced from 4 shillings 6 pence to 5 shillings per sack. Wheat is also booming.

HON. HUGH M'CULLOCH.

He is Somewhat Weaker Today—Secretary Gresham Improved.

WASHINGTON, May 22—Secretary Gresham and Representative Hitt are slightly improved this morning

Miss Mary Dodge is steadily sinking and is in a very critical condition.

Ex-Secretary McCulloch passed a restless night and is somewhat weaker today.

At a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor local union last night the Nickel Plate was chosen as the official route to Boston for the international convention.

There were a great many crooks in town today and quite a number of small robberies reported at police station. One lady had a valuable ring stolen during the parade.

During the temporary absence of the members of the household a few days since, burglars entered the residence of O. V. Riley, near Adams station, and carried away considerable cash and a fine black dress suit.

During the circus parade this morning the house of August Wesling, three miles out on the Wayne trace, was entered by burglars and $50 in cash and jewelry amounting to $60 was taken Many other robberies have been reported.

DEMAND HIGHER WAGES

Every Brick Yard in Chicago Tied Up.

A General Strike in Progress to Force Concessions From the Manufacturers.

CHICAGO, May 22—A general strike of brickmakers was declared late last night and every brick yard in Chicago is tied up today. The fight is expected to be a bitter one and trouble is anticipated by the police The strike has been in force in several of the yards for two weeks the demands of the men for higher wages being refused, and the brickmaker's alliance yesterday decided to order a general strike to force concessions by the manufacturers. The latter declare they will operate several yards on the north side with non-union men and the yards specified were surrounded this forenoon by crowds of strikers determined that no work shall be done until the wage question is settled.

INDIANA NEWS.

Brief Telegrams From Different Parts of the State.

ELWOOD, Ind., May 22—John Carroll, who has been conducting the Academy of Music, a variety theater, was closed up yesterday by its twenty irate performers, who attached all his scenery and other paraphernalia because of unpaid salaries The performers, half of whom are women, are stranded in this city.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind, May 22—Yesterday the Rev. Samuel McKee, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the state, was stricken with paralysis, at his home in St Paul, this county. He cannot recover. He is eighty six years old.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 22—Myrtle Sebastian Coan has filed suit here for divorce from George F. Coan, who is now in the photograph business in Cincinnati She alleges that he has another wife, with prior claims, residing in St. Louis.

VALPARAISO, May 22—Martin Van Buren Cole, seventy-eight years old, and Mrs. Mary Strong, seventy-seven, were married here last night It is the third matrimonial venture for both of them.

ANDERSON, May 22—The Rev. E. S. Nicholson is in the city aiding in the organization of the Good Citizens' league and the enforcement of the Nicholson law next month.

GOSPORT May 22—The large, finely finished stock barn owned by J. Peters & Co., of Louisville, Ky., located on what is known as the Goss farm, on the south side of this city, burned, consuming two horses, with farming implements, harness, buggy and a large quantity of feed. The origin was due to incendiarism. Loss about $5,000, with no insurance.

MUNCIE, May 22—For the third consecutive time within the past four months Grant Hancock's residence, northwest of Muncie, was burned by incendiaries.

CANNOT RIDE ON SUNDAY.

Wheelman Indignant Over an Order Issued by the Babylon Trustees.

BABYLON, L I, May 22—The wheelmen of this vicinity are very indignant over an order recently issued by Capt. Henry Oakley, one of the village trustees, authorizing the arrest of all persons caught riding bicycles through the village on Sunday. The constable here says that the order will be very difficult to enforce, as there are fifty or more local riders on the streets on Sunday and he is the only constable. The local force of wheelmen is augmented on Sundays by several hundred cyclists from New York and Brooklyn It is thought that a number of special deputies will be sworn in.

FLIGHTS TO HEAVEN.

Missouri Girl Claims to Bring Back Messages to Believers.

ZALMA, Mo., May 22—A new sect of religious worshipers have sprung into existence in this neighborhood and is attracting wide attention. Rev. Joseph Shrader is the shepherd of the new flock. The center of attraction is an "angel," a young girl who makes periodical flights to heaven, so it is claimed, returning with messages for the believers. Rev. Mr. Shrader claims the Bible to be out of date altogether, as it is not consistent with modern times, and proposes to establish a new code obtained through the instrumentality of his "angel."

SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Wants $52,200 From the Conference Which Deposed Him.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 22—A. H. Randahl, formerly a minister in the Swedish Augustana church, who was recently deposed by the action of the Minnesota conference at the adjourned meeting held in St. Paul March 26 and 27, has brought an action to recover $52 200 damages from Rev. S. G Swenson, president of the Hope academy at Moorhead, Minn., and Rev. S. A. Lindholm for participation in his church trial. He has heretofore sued the Augustana Book concern for $50,000 for publishing the conference's official proceedings.

WILL HANG HER CRIMINALS.

Michigan Senate Passes the Bill Restoring Capital Punishment.

LANSING, Mich., May 22—After spending the entire afternoon in an effort to talk it to death, the senate last night, by a vote of 18 to 12, passed the bill to restore capital punishment in certain cases in this state

MRS. SMITH REARRESTED

Taken Into Custody Again for the Same Offense.

Warrant Issued Upon New and Probably Convicting Evidence—Insists Upon the Plea of Innocence.

DULUTH, Minn., May 22—Mrs. Samuel D. Smith, of Detroit, who was brought here a few days ago on a charge of forgery, and who was released from custody yesterday, has been rearrested on another warrant, the same charge being made, new evidence having been discovered After Mrs. Smith's release yesterday Mrs Andrew Reefe, of this city, informed the police that on May 6, her husband saw a woman secure a big pile of money in the American Exchange bank The woman seemed nervous and excited and passed quickly out of the bank without counting it. Reefe himself was then locked up by the police, and he admitted the incident, and re-told the story to the detectives A new warrant was issued and Mrs. Smith got wind of it and hurriedly left the city. After looking over West Superior and adjoining towns the detectives received word that she had been seen at Smithville, a few miles from here, in company with some man whom they believe to be her husband but who proved to be a boarder at the house where Mrs. Smith had formerly stopped. Detectives Hayden and Benson took a team and started for Smithville. There they found Mrs. Smith and brought her back to Duluth a little after midnight and placed her and her babies in a cell To a reporter Mrs. Smith said that had she known that a warrant was out she would not have left She regretted that she had acted as she did but she had followed the advice of the man in whose company she was. She still maintains her innocence and declares that she is being persecuted, but Detective Benson considers her guilty and has proof of her guilt.

COMMOTION IN GIBRA.

Insurgent General Gomez and His Band Appear in Sight.

His Scheme Was to Seize the Steamer Baracoa and Use Her for a Family Residence.

NEW YORK, May 22—The Norwegian fruit steamer Baracao arrived today from Gibra, Cuba, with a cargo of bananas. Captain Clausen reports that while anchored at Sama, near Gibra, awaiting cargo, great excitement prevailed on shore. Bands of insurgents roamed through the town and it was also reported that General Gomez, the Cuban leader, was in the neighborhood Captain Clausen received information from a private source that the insurgent general contemplated seizing the Baracoa with the probable intention of using her for his family, and as a transport for his soldiers from town to town along the Cuban coast Capt. Clausen immediately got up all possible steam and paid out his anchor chain to the forty-five fathom shackle and made it fast to a heavy line, buoyed so that on the appearance of the rebels he could slip his anchor and steam at once to sea. After waiting nearly forty-eight hours the excitement on shore subsided, the rebels presumably having left the town Capt. Clausen was able to get along the wharf and proceeded to load his cargo of fruit.

RATHER ROMANTIC.

Montana's Attorney General Weds His Assistant.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22—Henri J. Haskell, attorney general of Montana, is on his way to this city where he is to be married, immediately on his arrival, to Miss Knowles, assistant attorney general of Montany, and his late competitor for office. The marriage is the happy culmination of a political contest, famous in Montana, and at the time pretty well advertised throughout the United States Miss Knowles is the only woman lawyer in Montana, and in the election of 1892 she secured the democratic nomination for the office of attorney general. Haskell was the republican candidate. Miss Knowels made a vigorous canvass, but the natural gallantry of the voters of Montana was of no avail to her, for she was defeated. She came out a good second, however. Later Haskell made his fair competitor his assistant

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Father Murders His Two Sons and Throws Them in the River.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 22—The body of Gibbie Ringo, who was eight years old, was found in the river two miles below here this morning, with the side of his head crushed in. His little brother is also missing. They both disappeared together two months ago. Their father is the supposed murderer and a mob is now in search of him with a lynching in view

CRACKED THE SAFE.

Burglars Make a Rich Haul at Oneida, Kansas.

SENECA, Kas., May 22—Burglars blew open the vault of the state bank of Oneida Kas, early this morning, securing about $1 800 The explosion was heard by people living near, but no attention was paid to it until the cashier opened the place for business. No clew.

WAS FRIGHTFUL!

Horse Runs Away During the Circus Parade.

Dashes Down the Sidewalk Through the Crowd.

Mrs. Elizah Lemay Fatally Injured—Dozens of Persons Knocked Down and Trampled Upon.

A frightful runaway accident occurred during the circus parade this morning, on Columbia street, between Calhoun and Clinton streets. People were knocked down and hurt by the dozens. The injured are as follows

MRS. ELIZAH LEMAY, Washington township, skull fractured and hurt internally. Will die.

MRS. ELLEN DEVOU, St Joseph township, hurt about the head and shoulder, serious.

JESSIE DEVOU, aged six, hurt internally; not known how seriously.

CATHERINE LEMAY, aged five, hurt about the head and bruised about the body.

BLANCH RACINE, child of Vergie Racine, Wayne street, bruised about the head.

FLORENCE, little sister of Blanch, slightly bruised about the body.

TWO CHILDREN of E. Wehnert, 315 West Main street. One of them badly cut about the head. The other not seriously hurt.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The circus parade had been passing west on Columbia street. A horse owned by the Pierce livery stable was tied in front of Kelly's grocery. It had been left there by Tom Walsh, the well known tobacco salesman.

The horse was greatly frightened at the parade and was hitched only by a light strap to a ring in the pavement. There are two versions as to how the horse first started. One that it had broken the strap and stood still until the elephants came by when it started madly down the sidewalk towards Clinton street Another version is that some one was holding the horse and that it broke away, pulling off some of the harness.

At anyrate the consequences were awful. The frantic animal plunged into the crowd which had collected along the sidewalk to see the parade. Dozens of people were knocked down right and left Many had miraculous escapes, particularly a number of little children.

THE HORSE CAUGHT.

The animal plunged on down the sidewalk, crossing Clinton street In front of Pfeiffer & Schlatter's hardware store it turned into the street and collided with a farmer's wagon. A dozen men, among them Mr. Pfeiffer and several of his clerks, rushed out and caught and held the animal after a hard struggle.

GATHERING UP THE INJURED

Willing hands helped to gather up the injured. Some were carried into Noll's drug store, the two Racine children into the Saratoga saloon, Mrs. Devou and her son Jesse into Pfeiffer & Schlatter's and Mrs Lemay and her little daughter into Dr. D. B Cary's office, the doctor being a son-in-law to the injured woman.

MANY DOCTORS CALLED.

Pfeiffer & Schlatter's clerks called up physicians from all parts of the city. Drs. Porter, Duemling Rosenthal and Hetrick looked after Mrs. Devou and her son. The woman was moaning piteously and complaining loudly of her right shoulder. She was terribly frightened and was verging on hysterics. Her little boy was crying and complaining of his back.

The doctors pronounced none of their injuries fatal, but in the case of the little boy it is hard to tell, as he appears to be hurt internally.

SKULL FRACTURED.

Mrs. Lemay was attended by Drs. Harrod and Gavin. She is a lady of about sixty-one years of age. While the physicians were making the examination her children stood by the unconcious form and were half frantic with grief.

"She is fatally injured," said Dr. Harrod, rising from beside the couch where the injured woman was lying.

"She has sustained a bad fracture of the skull, near the temple, and this alone, beside the internal injuries will likely cause death," added the doctor.

There was another sad scene.

The woman had not regained consciousness at 11:30 o'clock when THE SENTINEL reporter left

IS DYING

At 2 o'clock a SENTINEL reporter called at Dr. Cary's home, on Clinton street. Mrs Lemay was lying in a comatose state and slowly sinking. Her death then was only a question of a short time. She was surrounded by her husband and children. The woman's injuries were even worse than first reported. Her skull was completely fractured. The horse, no doubt, struck the woman square in the forehead with one of his front hoofs.

CLAVICLE BROKEN.

About noon Mrs. Devou and her son were removed to the Arlington hotel in the patrol wagon. Dr. Myers was called and stated that the woman's left clavicle was slightly fractured, but that the little boy was not badly hurt

THE WEHNERT CHILDREN.

The two children of F. E. Wehnert the shoemaker at 315 West Main street, were among the injured, They were taken into Noll's drug store and later removed to their home One of the little boys who is aged about five years, had a serious cut upon his forehead He cried most piteously. It is not thought he is badly hurt His brother was only bruised.

WHO IS TO BLAME

It is too early to determine who is to blame. There are half a dozen versions of how the horse started, but there was so much excitement that no one hardly can tell a straight story. It is only a wonder that many more people were not killed or injured

ANOTHER RUNAWAY

At an early hour this morning Dr A. L Corneille was driving J. B Kelley's delivery wagon through Duck Alley when the horse took fright Dr Corneille was thrown out and badly bruised about the side and hips The vehicle collided with a telephone pole at the corner of Calhoun and Superior streets and was wrecked. The horse ran on and stopped in front of Kelley's grocery, at the exact spot where Pearse's horse started an hour or so later.

MOVING FORWARD.

Homeseekers and Speculators En Route to Kickapoo.

A Great Crowd Ready to Rush in Tomorrow, When the Strip is Opened to Settlement.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla, May 22.—All night long the roads leading to the Kickapoo country were crowded with men on horseback, going to the Kickapoo border in anticipation of the opening of the reservation tomorrow for settlement The crowd is much larger than was anticipated here There will hardly be an able bodied man in the town by tomorrow morning. The banks have given notice that they will close for the day and the report was started that a raid by outlaws was feared. Plenty of queer outfits are going out. This morning a 'bus drawn by four horses took out a town site party. On the 'bus was loaded a big tent and wet and dry supplies, and inside were the town projectors and the men who will open the first hotel and restaurant. One body of horsemen, over 100 strong, started out this morning. It was a fine sight as they went through the streets, four abreast, with Winchesters and canteens strapped to their saddles. The railroad put cheap fares into effect yesterday and the trains at midnight came in with people standing in the aisles of the cars and on the platforms Many of them were compelled to walk the streets all night, as every bed in town had been engaged the night before. There is not a horse in town for hire and very few for sale at an enormous price. The weather is very cool and the sky is overcast. Everybody is praying for rain. There will be no crops in this country unless there is rain very soon. In the Kickapoo country everything looks better. Corn is eighteen inches high and garden crops look well Reports of trouble between marshals and "sooners" are thick but they are unconfirmed. Hiatt, the Kansas boy, who was first in line at the land office, sold his place last night for $500 to a lady who wants to take up a claim. He has been engaged by her to hold the place for her and will make the race out to the land for her.

AN INSURRECTION.

The Creek Nation in Arms Against the Tribal Heads.

Espanhechee, Who Led the Insurrection in 1893, is at the Head of the Recent Trouble.

EUFFLA, I. T, May 22—The Creek nation is in a veritable state of insurrection against the tribal heads of the government. Armed bands are moving on Okwuggee, the capital, from different parts of the nation. Five men left here this morning at 8 o'clock and were joined by 100 more from New Yorker, an Indian town west of here. Five other Indian towns are reported to have sent forty men each. The misappropriation by the head of the government of the Creek nation of part of the funds that were to have been paid out of a per capita basis is alleged to be the reason for this uprising Espanhechee, who lead the insurrection in 1883, is said to be at the head of the present trouble. If true, there is bound to be serious trouble, for he is a determined man. The council of the Creek nation is in session at Okwuggee and the insurgents say they will go there and see to it that the council does its duty toward investigating the matter. It is said to be their intention to compel Chief L. C Prettyman to resign and set up Hotulke Amartheler, second chief, in his stead.

A ROBY CONFERENCE.

Governor and Attorney General Arrange a Plan.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22.—Governor Matthews and Attorney General Ketcham held a consultation yesterday on the Roby matter, as the association has announced that races will begin today. An agreement has been arrived at between the two as to the policy to pursue, but neither will say what that course will be It is known, however, that whatever steps are taken will be with the object in view of compelling the association to take the appeal to the supreme court, as in that case a decision would be received before the court adjourns for its summer vacation.

CAME BY THOUSANDS.

Ringling Brothers' Circus Fills the City With Visitors.

A Splendid Performance Given This Afternoon—Everybody Well Pleased—Street Parade.

A typical circus day, so far as the weather is concerned, has brought large numbers of visitors to Fort Wayne, today, and the streets have been thronged Early morning excursion trains brought many people from near-by cities and country people who have found the spring season backward gave up their farm work and came to town en masse.

Up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, it was intended that the circus grounds would be on the flats just east of Clinton street and between this street and the St. Mary's river. This location was chosen by Mr Hunter, one of the first advance men, but Mr Nellis, the agent who arrived yesterday, decided late last evening that there was not room enough here and chose a location just south of the reservoir park.

The circus, with its sixty cars of cages and trappings, came in at 3 30 o'clock this morning over the Wabash from Marion, where they gave fine performances yesterday to a great throng of people

The pharaphernalia was immediately unloaded and taken to the grounds. Large crowds gathered to see the unloading, and still larger crowds went out to the grounds to witness the uprearing of the immense spread of canvas The sideshow tents are as large as the "big top" of a few years ago. The menagerie top is an immense spread of canvas and the big top would shelter an army. Nearly ten acres of ground are required for the circus and its belongings.

At 10 o'clock the parade was on the street. There have been, perhaps, more pretentious circus parades seen in Fort Wayne, but never have our citizens seen a more magnificent street spectacle than the parade put out by Ringling Bros. today. It was not alone its great length, but its appointments, its finish, its novel features, which attracted the unstinted commendation of the thousands who lined the streets as it passed. The cages are new and novel; the menagerie animals sleek and very much up to date; the principal performers rode in English traps and were in morning costume. This was a distinctly novel feature and elicited much favorable comment The parade as a whole was the finest ever seen in Fort Wayne.

Was given at 2 o'clock. For one hour previous to the performance Liberati's splendid band of sixty soloists gave a superb concert, the feature of which was the great cornetist's solos, which called out numerous encores After this concert the circus performance came, and for two hours Fort Wayne witnessed the circus par excellence of the period, and understood why the Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis press united in commending it as the best in the country. The distinction is well merited.

In so large a circus there are, of course, many big features, too many in fact, to admit of detailed mention. The Dacomas, Parisian acrobats, are particularly a strong feature. The Eddy family of European acrobats, the ladies and gentlemen of whom perform their feats in strictly orthodox evening costumes; the Landauer troupe of German flexible models; the riding acts of Nellie Ryland, Virginie Lowande and Messrs. Rooney and Hollis; the scores of trick elephants, horses, ponies, dogs and monkeys, and Mons. Natalis's quintette of educated pigs are great cards. The act de resistance is the wonderful dive of Professor Speedy from the dome of the amphitheater head foremost to a tank containing but three feet of water is the most dare devil feat ever attempted in any show People hold their breaths in fear that he will inevitably dash his brains out, but when he emerges smiling from his little "pint of water" bath, the reaction sets in and the amphitheater resounds with applause. The performance concludes with a highly exciting series of hippodrome races.

The menagerie is well worth a careful study. The animals are in such excellent condition and there are so many novelties that the student of natural history may well exclaim that here is a liberal education. There are two families of nursing baby lions, the smallest elephant and the largest giraffe and hippopotamus in the world; long tailed, long maned and hairless horses and scores more of interesting novelties.

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED.

The Heir to an Estate of Four Million.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash, May 22—The death and identity of Ansel White, the lost heir to the four million dollar estate has been fully established by a special court commission sent to this coast by the probate court of Utica, N. Y. It appears that a period of fifty years has elapsed from the time White hurriedly left his home in company with another man's wife until his heirs learned of his death near Port Angeles. He and the woman went to Illinois, where they separated and he went out west to California and ultimately settled on a lonely ranch in the Olympic mountains where, thirty years later, he died. His will bequeathing all his worldly possessions to Preston M Troy, is pronounced worthless in so far as it applies to the eastern estate. It was some years after White's death before he fell heir to the Utica estate and consequently he cannot will to Troy property he did not own.

ABSOLUTELY SURE.

Location of the Winona Assembly at Warsaw.

The Pennsylvania and the Big Four Railroads Each Give $5,000 Towards the Enterprise.

A telegram received in this city this morning by one of the members of the executive committee from Chas. H. Conner, the president of the Winona Presbyterian assembly, states that definite arrangements had been made for the location of the grounds at Spring Fountain Park, near Warsaw, by special contracts made by Mr. Conner with General Manager McCrea, of the Pennsylvania railroad company. It states that the Pennsylvania company and the Big Four company, both of which railroads pass through Warsaw, have agreed to give the assembly $5,000 each for the erection of buildings and the beautifying of the grounds and that Mr. Conner had called a meeting of the executive committee at Warsaw on Friday morning to confirm the purchase of the grounds from Beyer Brothers, including all the land on the east side of Eagle Lake.

Those who have never visited the park can form no idea of the beauty of the grounds secured by the assembly. They embrace not only all the improvements of the handsome park, but a large amount of ground never before included in the park proper, extending all along the eastern shore of that beautiful body of water known as Eagle Lake, taking in "Pilot Knob," "Hamilton's Grave," the "Mouth of Ludlow Creek," and both its shores for some distance up that stream, and extending southward nearly to John "Grabner's Stock Farm," the home of "The Polled Angus" herd of cattle owned by him, including every variety of land and scenery, besides Spring Fountain Park. Besides nearly every building in the park—and their number is great, and some of them costly—can be at once utilized by the assembly the coming season, a feature that is of immense value to the association.

A NEW TERMINAL.

The Union Pacific to Build to San Francisco Bay.

The New Line Will Touch Several Points Rich in Coal and Iron Ore.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The statement is published here that the Union Pacific has arranged for a terminal on San Francisco Bay railway and will build a connecting link The San Francisco and Northern Pacific, which now runs from Tiburon, on San Francisco bay, to Ukiah, will be extended to Covello, in the northern part of California The Union Pacific now extends to Corvallis and Yaquina Bay, Ore. The Overland Pacific will follow down the coast and join the Donahue system, thus forming a connection. The work on grading and building the connections will begin immediately. It is said the new line will touch several towns laid out by the Oregon Railway and Navigation company. The extension of the San Francisco and Northern Pacific to Covello will tap the rich coal mines in the northeast part of Mendocino county, California, reaching also a fine lumber district The Overland Pacific road will be from Covello to Inquin, thence along the coast to Coos Bay, to Roseburg, south to Humboldt county, California, and through Round Valley, probably touching Eureka, California.

NEW PLAN OF TAXATION

Mexico Will Fill Her Treasury by Robbing Americans.

Will Levy a Heavy Tax on All American Holdings of Mexican Mining Interests.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Word reaches Washington that Mexico is about to adopt a new plan for raising revenue by taxing all silver and gold mines in which American capital is heavily invested. Finance Minister Limantour first suggested the plan to the budget committee and the latter accepted it and presented it to the chamber of deputies as part of the federal revenues for the current year. The proposed tax is estimated in the budget to yield $2,275,000, which makes it third item of importance in the Mexican revenues, being exceeded only by customs and internal revenue or stamp tax. The new tax is to be called an "extraction tax." It is 2½ per cent. on silver and 3½ on gold. It is to be paid on every species of the two precious metals, rough or refined. The collection is to be made at the metallurgical office on such metals as are for local use, and at the point of export metals sent abroad. The "extraction tax" is in addition to the charge for minting or coining. There are no exemptions, even in the case of special mining concessions or zones, granted by the government. Another prospective change affecting American interests is likely to result from the silver-lead ore item of the last United States tariff act. It is not improbable that the old American rate of half cent per pound on the lead cotained in silver—lead ore will be reimposed by Mexico. The rate was reduced to ¾ cent per pound by the United States act. A provision was added that in case a foreign country shall impose an export duty upon silver ores containing lead exported to the United States from such country, then the duty upon such ores, when imposed from such country remains fixed by the law in force prior to the passage of the act. It is under this provision that the Mexican law is likely to be changed.

SILVER DISCUSSED.

It Becomes an Interesting Theme in the East.

President Andrews and Hon. Adams Make a Subject of Discussion—How They Feel Out West.

BOSTON, May 22—A largely attended meeting of the Mystic Valley club was held last night at the Quincy house. President E. B. Andrews, of Brown University, Providence, and Hon. Brooks Adams, of Quincy, spoke on "Honest Money." President Andrews delivered the principal address. He traced most of the disasters in the last twenty years to currency changes made in 1873.

DENVER, Col., May 22.—Congressman John F. Shafroth, republican, who has just returned from Salt Lake, where he attended the silver conference as delegate from Colorado, says if the democrats put a free silver candidate in the field for president and the republican party does not, it will be the duty of the republicans of this state to support the democratic nominee unanimously and heartily.

"The democracy is a great national party," he added, "and has a foothold over the country that a new party would not have, and by working jointly the republicans and democrats of the west would have a great chance of carrying the day for the candidate. I believe in giving my own political party the first opportunity to keep us in the fold, but if it does not come out in its platform for free silver plainly and unmistakable and with no loophole left to crawl out of the position, then I am going to leave the party and vote for the candidate, no matter what his politics may be, who will support and carry out the free silver principles. For these reasons I would have the delegates to the national conventions be instructed so that, should the national conventions refuse to champion the cause of silver, the delegations could leave the convention honorably and afterwards unite upon their own candidate. Let the east and the doubtful states construe it as a threat if they choose, I believe they should be made to understand our position at once and in plain terms."

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Senator John M. Palmer, of Illinois, called on the president today and told him about the silver situation in that state. Senator Palmer jokingly responded to the question as to whether the silver movement in Illinois had been arrested by saying that warrants were out for the movement, but the officers having the warrants had been unable to come up with it yet. The senator says that so far as the democratic convention, called to meet in June, is concerned, it is a foregone conclusion that the free silver plank will be adopted.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 22.—The delegates to the "sound money" convention, which opens tomorrow morning, are arriving by every train and the hotel corridors are filled with well dressed and representative southern business men, exchanging greetings and discussing the money question and the probable course of the convention. The question as to who shall be the permanent chairman of the convention has not yet been decided and the committee who have the matter in hand decline to give out the names under consideration. The time at which Secretary Carlisle will speak tomorrow depends upon the length of the preliminary proceedings. It is thought, however, that the speech will not be delivered before 4 p. m.

STARTLING DISCOVERY.

The Internal Revenue Laws Pronounced Unconstitutional.

Colonel Noble Smithson Declares That These Laws Are Effected by the Supreme Court's Decision.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 22.—The startling announcement is made by Colonel Noble Smithson, a Knoxville attorney, who has had much practice before the United States supreme court, that the decision of that court on the income tax, has also killed the internal revenue laws. In a carefully prepared opinion Colonel Smithson says: "Justice Fuller, in his opinion, says the 'constitution divides federal taxation into two classes—first direct taxes; second, imports and excises, and that 'direct taxes must be apportioned among the several states in proportion to their representation in the house of representatives.' Apparently the legal result of this opinion is that all federal taxes, except duties of imports (that is to say taxes collected under the tariff laws), must be apportioned among the states according to their representation in the house of representatives. The act of August 27, 1894 (Wilson bill), section 48, provides: "There shall be levied and collected on all distilled spirits, etc., a tax of $1.10 on each proof gallon.' The statutes of the United States levy a tax of 6 cents per pound on tobacco, etc. It seems clear that according to this opinion of Chief Justice Fuller that real estate and personal property are not being proportioned among the several states according to representation, they are unconstitutional and void. If this view be correct, the supreme court has not only wiped out the income tax, but has practically repealed the internal revenue laws as it affects tobacco, whisky, brandy, etc. If this construction of this opinion be correct, all direct taxes, including those of real and personal property, must be levied on according to representation, so that the rich people of New York, Massachusetts and other eastern states would pay no more tax per capita than the poorer people of the western and southern states. Of course that is not to be thought of. It would result that practically all the revenues to support the government must be raised by duties on imports and instead of reducing the tariff it will necessarily increase it materially."

WHEAT AWAY UP.

Goes Beyond the Seventy-five Cent Point.

The Advance Due to Continued Crop Damage Reports—Corn Firm in Sympathy.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Wheat started excitedly today and went over 75c before it reacted. The advance resulted from the advance at Liverpool and continued crop damage reports. July opened 1c higher at 74½c, touched 74¾c, sold to 75¼c and reacted to 75c. Corn was firm in sympathy with wheat. July opened ½c higher at 55½c, touched 55¾c and reacted to the opening price. Oats were steady with the larger markets. July opened ½c higher at 28½c and reacted to 28¼c.

LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch to the Associated Press association from Glasgow today says: There is much excitement here in corn circles in consequence of the American hoisting values. Stocks here are very light. Flour has been advanced from 4 shillings 6 pence to 5 shillings per sack. Wheat is also booming.

HON. HUGH M'CULLOCH.

He is Somewhat Weaker Today—Secretary Gresham Improved.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Secretary Gresham and Representative Hitt are slightly improved this morning.

Miss Mary Dodge is steadily sinking and is in a very critical condition.

Ex-Secretary McCulloch passed a restless night and is somewhat weaker today.

At a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor local union last night the Nickel Plate was chosen as the official route to Boston for the international convention.

There were a great many crooks in town today and quite a number of small robberies reported at police station. One lady had a valuable ring stolen during the parade.

During the temporary absence of the members of the household a few days since, burglars entered the residence of O. V. Riley, near Adams station, and carried away considerable cash and a fine black dress suit.

During the circus parade this morning the house of August Wesling, three miles out on the Wayne trace, was entered by burglars and $50 in cash and jewelry amounting to $60 was taken. Many other robberies have been reported.

DEMAND HIGHER WAGES

Every Brick Yard in Chicago Tied Up.

A General Strike in Progress to Force Concessions From the Manufacturers.

CHICAGO, May 22.—A general strike of brickmakers was declared late last night and every brick yard in Chicago is tied up today. The fight is expected to be a bitter one and trouble is anticipated by the police. The strike has been in force in several of the yards for two weeks the demands of the men for higher wages being refused, and the brickmaker's alliance yesterday decided to order a general strike to force concessions by the manufacturers. The latter declare they will operate several yards on the north side with non-union men and the yards specified were surrounded this forenoon by crowds of strikers determined that no work shall be done until the wage question is settled.

INDIANA NEWS.

Brief Telegrams From Different Parts of the State.

ELWOOD, Ind., May 22—John Carroll, who has been conducting the Academy of Music, a variety theater, was closed up yesterday by its twenty irate performers, who attached all his scenery and other paraphernalia because of unpaid salaries. The performers, half of whom are women, are stranded in this city.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., May 22.—Yesterday the Rev. Samuel McKee, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the state, was stricken with paralysis, at his home in St. Paul, this county. He cannot recover. He is eighty-six years old.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 22.—Myrtle Sebastian Coan has filed suit here for divorce from George F. Coan, who is now in the photograph business in Cincinnati. She alleges that he has another wife, with prior claims, residing in St. Louis.

VALPARAISO, May 22.—Martin Van Buren Cole, seventy-eight years old, and Mrs. Mary Strong, seventy-seven, were married here last night. It is the third matrimonial venture for both of them.

ANDERSON, May 22.—The Rev. E. S. Nicholson is in the city aiding in the organization of the Good Citizens' league and the enforcement of the Nicholson law next month.

GOSHEN, May 22.—The large, finely finished stock barn owned by J. Peters & Co., of Louisville, Ky., located on what is known as the Goss farm, on the south side of this city, burned, consuming two horses, with farming implements, harness, buggy and a large quantity of feed. The origin was due to incendiarism. Loss about $5,000, with no insurance.

MUNCIE, May 22.—For the third consecutive time within the past four months Grant Hancock's residence, northwest of Muncie, was burned by incendiaries.

CANNOT RIDE ON SUNDAY.

Wheelmen Indignant Over an Order Issued by the Babylon Trustees.

BABYLON, L. I., May 22.—The wheelmen of this vicinity are very indignant over an order recently issued by Capt. Henry Oakley, one of the village trustees, authorizing the arrest of all persons caught riding bicycles through the village on Sunday. The constable here says that the order will be very difficult to enforce, as there are fifty or more local riders on the streets on Sunday and he is the only constable. The local force of wheelmen is augmented on Sundays by several hundred cyclists from New York and Brooklyn. It is thought that a number of special deputies will be sworn in.

FLIGHTS TO HEAVEN.

Missouri Girl Claims to Bring Back Messages to Believers.

ZALMA, Mo., May 22.—A new sect of religious worshipers have sprung into existence in this neighborhood and is attracting wide attention. Rev. Joseph Shrader is the shepherd of the new flock. The center of attraction is an "angel," a young girl who makes periodical flights to heaven, so it is claimed, returning with messages for the believers. Rev. Mr. Shrader claims the Bible to be out of date altogether, as it is not consistent with modern times, and proposes to establish a new code obtained through the instrumentality of his "angel."

SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Wants $52,200 From the Conference Which Deposed Him.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 22.—A. H. Randahl, formerly a minister in the Swedish Augustana church, who was recently deposed by the action of the Minnesota conference at the adjourned meeting held in St. Paul March 26 and 27, has brought an action to recover $52,200 damages from Rev. S. G. Swenson, president of the Hope academy at Moorhead, Minn., and Rev. S. A. Lindholm for participation in his church trial. He has heretofore sued the Augustana Book concern for $50,000 for publishing the conference's official proceedings.

WILL HANG HER CRIMINALS.

Michigan Senate Passes the Bill Restoring Capital Punishment.

LANSING, Mich., May 22.—After spending the entire afternoon in an effort to talk it to death, the senate last night, by a vote of 18 to 12, passed the bill to restore capital punishment in certain cases in this state.

Snow in Colorado.

CREEDE, Colo., May 22.—It has been snowing here for twelve hours. The snow lies a foot deep in the streets.

CLAYTON, N. M., May 22.—A cold, steady rain has been falling since yesterday with no indications of clearing off. An inch and a half of rain has fallen. Range interests will be immensely benefited.

MRS. SMITH REARRESTED

Taken Into Custody Again for the Same Offense.

Warrant Issued Upon New and Probably Convicting Evidence—Insists Upon the Plea of Innocence.

DULUTH, Minn., May 22.—Mrs. Samuel D. Smith, of Detroit, who was brought here a few days ago on a charge of forgery, and who was released from custody yesterday, has been rearrested on another warrant, the same charge being made, new evidence having been discovered. After Mrs. Smith's release yesterday Mrs. Andrew Reefe, of this city, informed the police that on May 6, her husband saw a woman secure a big pile of money in the American Exchange bank. The woman seemed nervous and excited and passed quickly out of the bank without counting it. Reefe himself was then looked up by the police, and he admitted the incident, and re-told the story to the detectives. A new warrant was issued and Mrs. Smith got wind of it and hurriedly left the city. After looking over West Superior and adjoining towns the detectives received word that she had been seen at Smithville, a few miles from here, in company with some man whom they believe to be her husband but who proved to be a boarder at the house where Mrs. Smith had formerly stopped. Detectives Hayden and Benson took a team and started for Smithville. There they found Mrs. Smith and brought her back to Duluth a little after midnight and placed her and her babies in a cell. To a reporter Mrs. Smith said that had she known that a warrant was out she would not have left. She regretted that she had acted as she did but she had followed the advice of the man in whose company she was. She still maintains her innocence and declares that she is being persecuted, but Detective Benson considers her guilty and has proof of her guilt.

COMMOTION IN GIBRA.

Insurgent General Gomez and His Band Appear in Sight.

His Scheme Was to Seize the Steamer Baracoa and Use Her for a Family Residence.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Norwegian fruit steamer Baracoa arrived today from Gibra, Cuba, with a cargo of bananas. Captain Clausen reports that while anchored at Sama, near Gibra, awaiting cargo, great excitement prevailed on shore. Bands of insurgents roamed through the town and it was also reported that General Gomez, the Cuban leader, was in the neighborhood. Captain Clausen received information from a private source that the insurgent general contemplated seizing the Baracoa with the probable intention of using her for his family, and as a transport for his soldiers from town to town along the Cuban coast. Capt. Clausen immediately got up all possible steam and paid out his anchor chain to the forty-five fathom shackle and made it fast to a heavy line, buoyed so that on the appearance of the rebels he could slip his anchor and steam at once to sea. After waiting nearly forty-eight hours the excitement on shore subsided, the rebels presumably having left the town. Capt. Clausen was able to get along the wharf and proceeded to load his cargo of fruit.

RATHER ROMANTIC.

Montana's Attorney General Weds His Assistant.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Henri J. Haskell, attorney general of Montana, is on his way to this city where he is to be married, immediately on his arrival, to Miss Knowles, assistant attorney general of Montana, and his late competitor for office. The marriage is the happy culmination of a political contest, famous in Montana, and at the time pretty well advertised throughout the United States. Miss Knowles is the only woman lawyer in Montana, and in the election of 1892 she secured the democratic nomination for the office of attorney general. Haskell was the republican candidate. Miss Knowels made a vigorous canvass, but the natural gallantry of the voters of Montana was of no avail to her, for she was defeated. She came out a good second, however. Later Haskell made his fair competitor his assistant.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Father Murders His Two Sons and Throws Them in the River.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 22.—The body of Gibble Ringo, who was eight years old, was found in the river two miles below here this morning, with the side of his head crushed in. His little brother is also missing. They both disappeared together two months ago. Their father is the supposed murderer and a mob is now in search of him with a lynching in view.

CRACKED THE SAFE.

Burglars Make a Rich Haul at Oneida, Kansas.

SENECA, Kas., May 22.—Burglars blew open the vault of the state bank of Oneida, Kas., early this morning, securing about $1,800. The explosion was heard by people living near, but no attention was paid to it until the cashier opened the place for business. No clew.

WAS FRIGHTFUL!

Horse Runs Away During the Circus Parade.

Dashes Down the Sidewalk Through the Crowd.

Mrs. Elizah Lemay Fatally Injured—Dozens of Persons Knocked Down and Trampled Upon.

A frightful runaway accident occurred during the circus parade this morning, on Columbia street, between Calhoun and Clinton streets. People were knocked down and hurt by the dozens. The injured are as follows:

MRS. ELIZAH LEMAY, Washington township, skull fractured and hurt internally. Will die.

MRS. ELLEN DEVOU, St. Joseph township, hurt about the head and shoulder; serious.

JESSE DEVOU, aged six, hurt internally; not known how seriously.

CATHERINE LEMAY, aged five, hurt about the head and bruised about the body.

BLANCH RACINE, child of Vergie Racine, Wayne street, bruised about the head.

FLORENCE, little sister of Blanch, slightly bruised about the body.

TWO CHILDREN OF E. Wehnert, 345 West Main street. One of them badly cut about the head. The other not seriously hurt.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The circus parade had been passing west on Columbia street. A horse owned by the Pierce livery stable was tied in front of Kelly's grocery. It had been left there by Tom Walsh, the well known tobacco salesman.

The horse was greatly frightened at the parade and was hitched only by a light strap to a ring in the pavement. There are two versions as to how the horse first started. One that it had broken the strap and stood still until the elephants came by when it started madly down the sidewalk towards Clinton street. Another version is that some one was holding the horse and that it broke away, pulling off some of the harness.

At anyrate the consequences were awful. The frantic animal plunged into the crowd which had collected along the sidewalk to see the parade. Dozens of people were knocked down right and left. Many had miraculous escapes, particularly a number of little children.

THE HORSE CAUGHT.

The animal plunged on down the sidewalk, crossing Clinton street. In front of Pfeiffer & Schlatter's hardware store it turned into the street and collided with a farmer's wagon. A dozen men, among them Mr. Pfeiffer and several of his clerks, rushed out and caught and held the animal after a hard struggle.

GATHERING UP THE INJURED.

Willing hands helped to gather up the injured. Some were carried into Noll's drug store, the two Racine children into the Saratoga saloon, Mrs. Devou and her son Jesse into Pfeiffer & Schlatter's and Mrs. Lemay and her little daughter into Dr. D. H. Cary's office, the doctor being a son-in-law to the injured woman.

MANY DOCTORS CALLED.

Pfeiffer & Schlatter's clerks called up physicians from all parts of the city. Drs. Porter, Buesking, Rosenthal and Hetrick looked after Mrs. Devou and her son. The woman was moaning piteously and complaining loudly of her right shoulder. She was terribly frightened and was verging on hysterics. Her little boy was crying and complaining of his back.

The doctors pronounced none of their injuries fatal, but in the case of the little boy it is hard to tell, as he appears to be hurt internally.

SKULL FRACTURED.

Mrs. Lemay was attended by Drs. Harrod and Gavin. She is a lady of about sixty-one years of age. While the physicians were making the examination her children stood by the unconscious form and were half frantic with grief.

"She is fatally injured," said Dr. Harrod, rising from beside the couch where the injured woman was lying.

"She has sustained a bad fracture of the skull, near the temple, and this alone, beside the internal injuries will likely cause death," added the doctor.

There was another sad scene.

The woman had not regained consciousness at 11:30 o'clock when THE SENTINEL reporter left.

IS DYING.

At 2 o'clock a SENTINEL reporter called at Dr. Cary's home, on Clinton street. Mrs. Lemay was lying in a comatose state and slowly sinking. Her death then was only a question of a short time. She was surrounded by her husband and children. The woman's injuries were even worse than first reported. Her skull was completely fractured. The horse, no doubt, struck the woman square in the forehead with one of his front hoofs.

CLAVICLE BROKEN.

About noon Mrs. Devou and her son were removed to the Arlington hotel in the patrol wagon. Dr. Myers was called and stated that the woman's left clavicle was slightly fractured, but that the little boy was not badly hurt.

THE WEHNERT CHILDREN.

The two children of F. E. Wehnert, the shoemaker at 345 West Main street, were among the injured. They were taken into Noll's drug store and later removed to their home. One of the little boys, who is aged about five years, had a serious cut upon his forehead. He cried most piteously. It is not thought he is badly hurt. His brother was only bruised.

WHO IS TO BLAME.

It is too early to determine who is to blame. There are half a dozen versions of how the horse started, but there was so much excitement that no one hardly can tell a straight story. It is only a wonder that many more people were not killed or injured.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY.

At an early hour this morning Dr. A. L. Cornellie was driving J. R. Kelley's delivery wagon through Duck Alley when the horse took fright. Dr. Cornellie was thrown out and badly bruised about the side and hips. The vehicle collided with a telephone pole at the corner of Calhoun and Superior streets and was wrecked. The horse ran on and stopped in front of Kelley's grocery, at the exact spot where Pearse's horse started an hour or so later.

MOVING FORWARD.

Homeseekers and Speculators En Route to Kickapoo.

A Great Crowd Ready to Rush in Tomorrow, When the Strip is Opened to Settlement.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 22.—All night long the roads leading to the Kickapoo country were crowded with men on horseback, going to the Kickapoo border in anticipation of the opening of the reservation tomorrow for settlement. The crowd is much larger than was anticipated here. There will hardly be an able bodied man in the town by tomorrow morning. The banks have given notice that they will close for the day and the report was started that a raid by outlaws was feared. Plenty of queer outfits are going out. This morning a 'bus drawn by four horses took out a town site party. On the 'bus was loaded a big tent and wet and dry supplies, and inside were the town projectors and the men who will open the first hotel and restaurant. One body of horsemen, over 100 strong, started out this morning. It was a fine sight as they went through the streets, four abreast, with Winchesters and canteens strapped to their saddles. The railroad put cheap fares into effect yesterday and the trains at midnight came in with people standing in the aisles of the cars and on the platforms. Many of them were compelled to walk the streets all night, as every bed in town had been engaged the night before. There is not a horse in town for hire and very few for sale at an enormous price. The weather is very cool and the sky is overcast. Everybody is praying for rain. There will be no crops in this country unless there is rain very soon. In the Kickapoo country everything looks better. Corn is eighteen inches high and garden crops look well. Reports of trouble between marshals and "sooners" are thick but they are unconfirmed. Histi, the Kansas boy, who was first in line at the land office, sold his place last night for $500 to a lady who wants to take up a claim. He has been engaged by her to hold the place for her and will make the race out to the land for her.

AN INSURRECTION.

The Creek Nation in Arms Against the Tribal Heads.

Espanhechee, Who Led the Insurrection in 1883, Is at the Head of the Recent Trouble.

EUFAULA, I. T., May 22.—The Creek nation is in a veritable state of insurrection against the tribal heads of the government. Armed bands are moving on Okwuggee, the capital, from different parts of the nation. Five men left here this morning at 8 o'clock and were joined by 100 more from New Yorker, an Indian town west of here. Five other Indian towns are reported to have sent forty men each. The misappropriation by the head of the government of the Creek nation of part of the funds that were to have been paid out of a per capita basis is alleged to be the reason for this uprising. Espanhechee, who lead the insurrection in 1883, is said to be at the head of the present trouble. If true, there is bound to be serious trouble, for he is a determined man. The council of the Creek nation is in session at Okwuggee and the insurgents say they will go there and see to it that the council does its duty toward investigating the matter. It is said to be their intention to compel Chief L. C. Prettyman to resign and set up Hotulke Amartheler, second chief, in his stead.

A ROBY CONFERENCE.

Governor and Attorney General Arrange a Plan.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22.—Governor Matthews and Attorney General Ketcham held a consultation yesterday on the Roby matter, as the association has announced that races will begin today. An agreement has been arrived at between the two as to the policy to pursue, but neither will say what that course will be. It is known, however, that whatever steps are taken will be with the object in view of compelling the association to take the appeal to the supreme court, as in that case a decision would be received before the court adjourns for its summer vacation.

CAME BY THOUSANDS.

Ringling Brothers' Circus Fills the City With Visitors.

A Splendid Performance Given This Afternoon—Everybody Well Pleased—Street Parade.

A typical circus day, so far as the weather is concerned, has brought large numbers of visitors to Fort Wayne, today, and the streets have been thronged. Early morning excursion trains brought many people from near-by cities and country people who have found the spring season backward gave up their farm work and came to town en masse.

Up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, it was intended that the circus grounds would be on the lots just east of Clinton street and between this street and the St. Mary's river. This location was chosen by Mr. Hunter, one of the first advance men, but Mr. Nellis, the agent who arrived yesterday, decided late last evening that there was not room enough here and chose a location just south of the reservoir park.

The circus, with its sixty cars of cages and trappings, came in at 3:30 o'clock this morning over the Wabash from Marion, where they gave fine performances yesterday to a great throng of people.

The pharaphernalia was immediately unloaded and taken to the grounds. Large crowds gathered to see the unloading, and still larger crowds went out to the grounds to witness the uprearing of the immense spread of canvas. The sideshow tents are as large as the "big top" of a few years ago. The menagerie top is an immense spread of canvas and the big top would shelter an army. Nearly ten acres of ground are required for the circus and its belongings.

At 10 o'clock the parade was on the street. There have been, perhaps, more pretentious circus parades seen in Fort Wayne, but never have our citizens seen a more magnificent street spectacle than the parade put out by Ringling Bros. today. It was not alone its great length, but its appointments, its finish, its novel features, which attracted the unstinted commendation of the thousands who lined the streets as it passed. The cages are new and novel; the menagerie animals sleek and very much up to date; the principal performers rode in English traps and were in morning costume. This was a distinctly novel feature and elicited much favorable comment. The parade as a whole was the finest ever seen in Fort Wayne.

Was given at 2 o'clock. For one hour previous to the performance Liberati's splendid band of sixty soloists gave a superb concert, the feature of which was the great cornetist's solos, which called out numerous encores. After this concert the circus performance came, and for two hours Fort Wayne witnessed the circus par excellence of the period, and understood why the Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis press united in commending it as the best in the country. The distinction is well merited.

In so large a circus there are, of course, many big features, too many in fact, to admit of detailed mention. The Dacomas, Parisian acrobats, are particularly a strong feature. The Eddy family of European acrobats, the ladies and gentlemen of whom perform their feats in strictly orthodox evening costumes; the Landauer troupe of German flexible models; the riding acts of Nellie Ryland, Virginia Lowande and Messrs. Rooney and Hollis; the scores of trick elephants, horses, ponies, dogs and monkeys, and Mons. Natalie's quintette of educated pigs are great cards. The act de resistance is the wonderful dive of Professor Speedy from the dome of the amphitheater head foremost to a tank containing but three feet of water is the most dare devil feat ever attempted in any show. People hold their breaths in fear that he will inevitably dash his brains out, but when he emerges smiling from his little "pint of water" bath, the reaction sets in and the amphitheater resounds with applause. The performance concludes with a highly exciting series of hippodrome races.

The menagerie is well worth a careful study. The animals are in such excellent condition and there are so many novelties that the student of natural history may well exclaim that here is a liberal education. There are two families of nursing baby lions, the smallest elephant and the largest giraffe and hippopotamus in the world; long tailed, long maned and hairless horses and scores more of interesting novelties.

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED.

The Heir to an Estate of Four Millions.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., May 22.—The death and identity of Ansel White, the lost heir to the four million dollar estate has been fully established by a special court commission sent to this coast by the probate court of Utica, N. Y. It appears that a period of fifty years has elapsed from the time White hurriedly left his home in company with another man's wife until his heirs learned of his death near Port Angeles. He and the woman went to Illinois, where they separated and he went out west to California and ultimately settled on a lonely ranch in the Olympic mountains where, thirty years later, he died. His will bequeathing all his worldly possessions to Preston M. Troy, is pronounced worthless in so far as it applies to the eastern estate. It was some years after White's death before he fell heir to the Utica estate and consequently he cannot will to Troy property he did not own.

THE COURTS.

Another Divorce Case Has Been Brought.

The Kreisinger Suit Near an End—Other Cases Brought and on Trial.

Chas. L. Gilman has brought suit against Mary E. Gilman for divorce. C. A. Hays is the attorney for the plaintiff.

The coroner has filed his verdict in the Dugan case with the county clerk. THE SENTINEL has already given the substance of the verdict.

The evidence in the Kreisinger case was all in this morning and the attorneys have been making their arguments today.

Henry Good and Lizzie Behrmann, Eddie Preston and Bergie Hunter, Adolph Fuhl and Olga Kierbsen have been licensed to wed.

Charles W. Branstrator, through his attorney, J. M. Robinson, has brought suit in the superior court against Harmon Ary et al. to quiet title.

Tomas Smith sues Elizabeth Williams et al. in the superior court to foreclose a mortgage and quiet title. J. M. Robinson is the attorney.

Charles E. Everett and Wallace Doud sues Samuel Bard for $2,000 commission on a real estate sale affected a few days ago. H. C. Hanna is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Emos T. Taylor sues John A. Johnson et al. for $2,000 for foreclosure. T. L. Lucas, of Huntington, is Taylor's attorney.

The Friedline ditch, in Jackson township, was discussed by the county commissioners yesterday. A number of remonstrances were heard.

The personal effects of the firm of Kyle & Neuhaus were sold at auctioneer's sale yesterday to Mr. Otto Seidel.

ABSOLUTELY SURE.

Location of the Winona Assembly at Warsaw.

The Pennsylvania and the Big Four Railroads Each Give $5,000 Towards the Enterprise.

A telegram received in this city this morning by one of the members of the executive committee from Chas. H. Conner, the president of the Winona Presbyterian assembly, states that definite arrangements had been made for the location of the grounds at Spring Fountain Park, near Warsaw, by special contracts made by Mr. Conner with General Manager McCrea, of the Pennsylvania railroad company. It states that the Pennsylvania company and the Big Four company, both of which railroads pass through Warsaw, have agreed to give the assembly $5,000 each for the erection of buildings and the beautifying of the grounds and that Mr. Conner had called a meeting of the executive committee at Warsaw on Friday morning to confirm the purchase of the grounds from Beyer Brothers, including all the land on the east side of Eagle Lake.

Those who have never visited the park can form no idea of the beauty of the grounds secured by the assembly. They embrace not only all the improvements of the handsome park, but a large amount of ground never before included in the park proper, extending all along the eastern shore of that beautiful body of water known as Eagle Lake, taking in "Pilot Knob," "Hamilton's Grave," the "Mouth of Ludlow Creek," and both its shores for some distance up that stream, and extending southward nearly to John "Grabner's Stock Farm," the home of "The Polled Angus" herd of cattle owned by him, including every variety of land and scenery, besides Spring Fountain Park. Besides nearly every building in the park—and their number is great, and some of them costly—can be at once utilized by the assembly the coming season, a feature that is of immense value to the association.

A NEW TERMINAL.

The Union Pacific to Build to San Francisco Bay.

The New Line Will Touch Several Points Rich in Coal and Iron Ore.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The statement is published here that the Union Pacific has arranged for a terminal on San Francisco Bay railway and will build a connecting link. The San Francisco and Northern Pacific, which now runs from Tiburon, on San Francisco bay, to Ukiah, will be extended to Covello, in the northern part of California. The Union Pacific now extends to Corvallis and Yaquina Bay, Ore. The Overland Pacific will follow down the coast and join the Donahue system, thus forming a connection. The work on grading and building the connections will begin immediately. It is said the new line will touch several towns laid out by the Oregon Railway and Navigation company. The extension of the San Francisco and Northern Pacific to Covello will tap the rich coal mines in the northeast part of Mendocino county, California, reaching also a fine lumber district. The Overland Pacific road will be from Covello to Inquin, thence along the coast to Coos Bay, to Roseburg, south to Humboldt county, California, and through Round Valley, probably touching Eureka, California.

HEROIC WOMEN.

Their Struggle Against a Common and Merciless Enemy.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Woman's heroism is not evinced by fearlessness or enterprise in time of danger, but her courage and fortitude are unquestionable in time of suffering.

Think of the woman who smiles and tries to make those around her cheerful, while she is racked with the excruciating tortures of womb trouble.

Think of one who, day by day, begs her physician to help her, while the torture of tortures could not add to her misery.

Does she yield? No! She endures her agonies, and meets her friends with cheerfulness.

This is woman's heroism, and few men realize how prevalent they are. Physicians rarely render relief in such cases.

After twenty years of success, with ever-increasing popularity, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is, to-day, woman's only sure and safe refuge from inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, ovarian trouble, leucorrhœa, painful and suppressed menstruations, kidney trouble, nervous prostration, and all manner of distressing and life-sapping female diseases.

"O my sisters, believe what is told you of this wonderful medicine! Before I took it I had falling of the womb and leucorrhœa. My womb came down so badly I could not walk across the floor; the pain was excruciating; now all is so changed, and I am so happy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved me from a life of misery. Don't, don't suffer, I say, when a cure is so easily obtained." — MRS. WILLIAM HOWE, 163 Antoin Street, Detroit, Mich.

THE SENTINEL congratulates Warsaw upon having secured the Presbyterian assembly.

EX-GOVERNOR CHASE died a very poor man. Outside a thousand dollars or so life insurance he had nothing.

CIRCUS day always brings a crowd to town and today has been no exception to the rule. The elephant continues to be a great drawing card.

THE scholars in the public schools are tussling with their final examinations this week. They will soon enter their long summer vacation.

THE Vincennes Commercial says that the Hon. Frank B. Posey, of Evansville, is grooming himself for the republican race for governor in 1896.

SCHNAUBELT, the Chicago Haymarket bomb thrower, has been found the past week in San Francisco, London, Tegucigalpa, Honduras, and half a dozen other places. He is fast becoming as ubiquitous as Tascott and it is a question whether the Chicago police want him any more than they have wanted that once notorious character.

A GREAT deal has been written about Elizabeth Cady Stanton making a new translation of the Bible. It developes that she is simply making a running commentary on those passages that relate to women, and that she is critically examining the Hebrew and Greek texts and giving literal translations of the same.

THERE are a few things that the boys and young men of today must learn before they will be able to hold a position in the business world, says the Muncie Herald: "It is getting to be a noticeable fact that girls and women are occupying many places that were formerly filled by men. But why? Because they attend to business with more care and are more painstaking and conscientious in their work. What the boys of today must learn are habits of industry and frugality. They must learn, further, that loafing on the streets, smoking cigarettes and telling vulgar stories is not the best way to business success. The only way that anyone can succeed in business is to be found at his place of business six days in the week, and the young man who thinks he can do otherwise will soon find himself out of a job."

Torpedo Boat In Future Wars.

Admiral Colomb of the British navy inclines to think, after all, that the modern cruiser, costing millions of dollars and armor plated 14 to 16 inches thick, may be helpless and useless in a short time because of the development of that wicked little craft, the torpedo boat. He gives the reasons for this opinion in The North American Review.

The admiral recalls the history of the torpedo boat, how it originated in America during the civil war, how it was meant to be at first merely an auxiliary part of naval warfare, to be used when other means failed. Then it assumed greater importance. Europe took up torpedo boat building, France in particular. The first torpedo boats were a failure because they were too small and were not sea going and could not discharge the torpedo under full head of steam in a high sea. When torpedo boats were carried on board cruisers, they were more trouble than they were worth. So a new pattern was devised.

Profiting by the experience of France, England has now ordered 42 new sea going torpedo vessels to be called "torpedo destroyers" technically. They are built to run out against an enemy's post or against a hostile fleet and destroy torpedo boats. The terrible Havock, of which so much has been written, is the first of the new type. These boats are 180 feet long, hold a crew of 42 men and have a displacement of 220 tons. What is meant by the displacement of a war vessel is the space occupied by her guns, gun equipments and machinery. The new British torpedo boats cost each $176,000. They are built to make the extraordinary speed of 27 knots an hour. Each vessel will be armed with five torpedo tubes, with at the most one 12 pound gun and five six pounders. The American navy, with all its new vessels and all the money we have been spending lately, has nothing at all that can cope with these English torpedo boats. That is the plain fact.

Admiral Colomb believes that the sea fight of the future means torpedo warfare. Against such boats as the Havock and her type the modern huge battleship will be as helpless as a whale on dry land. The torpedo shell can be fired off effectively under water at a distance of at least 600 yards away. The huge present day battleship has "an under water area of 300 feet by 27 feet." In the future, according to Admiral Colomb, the costly battle fleet will be nothing and must be thrown away. The seagoing torpedo flotilla is the coming war fleet.

The Pennsylvania house of representatives voted by a large majority to allow street railway cars to carry freight. This is the one thing yet lacking to develop trolley and horse cars to their full usefulness. There is no reason why freight should not be loaded into street cars and carried at the same speed that passengers are. It is a convenience badly needed in every city in this Union. Especially the electric lines in suburban and country places would supply a great want if they sent out freight cars at regular intervals. These could be small, light and swift enough not to interfere in any way with passenger traffic. At present the arrangements for getting baggage and small freights from one part to another of any of our large cities are a grievance and a nuisance intolerable. It actually takes longer to get a trunk from one part of Chicago or New York or Philadelphia to another than it would to send it to a city 100 miles away. The street freight and baggage car is the thing.

The probate of the will of Frederick Douglass shows that a colored man can accumulate property as well as a white man when he sets his head to it. Douglass was unable to read and write till he was grown. All the education he ever did have he got for himself. The young colored man of today has ten times the advantages even in the south that Douglass had, yet Douglass not only became one of the most distinguished men of his time, but became very well to do. Colored men can never do better than to take Fred Douglass for a pattern.

Colonel George E. Waring, New York's new street commissioner, has made a discovery which ought to send his name hurtling down the corridors of time. He has found out how to make streets clean. His discovery is as follows: "I have hit upon a plan for street cleaning which has proved effectual. It is to put a man instead of a voter at the end of a broom handle."

Great Britain is now trying very hard to conciliate the upper dog and is using every means to increase her trade with Japan. England loves Japan now almost as well as she loves the United States. But England must not let the Japs catch her shipping any more arms and ammunition to China if she wants really to make friends with the England of the orient.

It will henceforth be to Japan, not to England or France or Russia, that the downtrodden nations of the orient will look as to their deliverer. It would have been different if England and the other European powers had not regarded the Asiatic peoples merely as creatures to squeeze money out of.

The American Society For Religious Education held its annual meeting in Washington this year. It could not have selected a more appropriate place. To get its best work in, however, the society should have assembled before the 4th of March.

Although the United States produces more than 158,000,000 tons of coal a year, she is still only the second coal country in the world, Great Britain standing first. But wait till our southern mines are fully developed.

The sooner the many railroads adjust freight rates equitably and honestly and harmoniously the sooner they will get out of the hands of receivers.

More than half the trouble in this world comes because people do not tell the truth and do not keep their promises. See that you do not make other people trouble from these causes.

CURES DYSPEPSIA.

A New Preparation, Pleasant, Harmless, Simple, Prepared Solely for Weak Digestion.

A new remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion, very highly recommended by Dr. Harland and Dr. Jennison and other prominent physicians is a combination in tablet form of vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin and Golden Seal. One of these tablets should be dissolved in the mouth after each meal and according to Dr. Jennison the effect seems to be that the food is perfectly and promptly digested, before it has time to sour and ferment, which causes all the mischief.

So popular have these tablets become with people who have any form of indigestion that they are now sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are not a secret patent medicine, but as related above contain vegetable and fruit essences, pepsin and Golden Seal in a form absolutely safe and pleasant to take.

A few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be carried in the pocket and taken after meals and whenever there is any pain or discomfort in the stomach. They cure sour stomach, heartburn, bloating, gas, palpitation and all symptoms arising from disordered digestion. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 Cents for full sized package, or sent prepaid by mail from Stuart's Co., Marshall, Mich.

The prosecutor of Madison county has reopened the grand jury investigation of the Foust murder at Elwood, and Mrs. Bolton has reaffirmed the story with she is alleged to have made under hypnotic influence last Saturday, in which she claimed that she was persuaded to testify that she fired the fatal shot through fear that her son would be accused of the crime.

Mrs. Martha E. Ludwig, whose husband, Henry Ludwig, of Muncie, attempted to kill her because of her refusal longer to abide with him, has filed against him for shooting with intent to kill, and on a plea of guilty he has been remanded for grand jury action. After his commitment Ludwig demanded privilege of withdrawing his plea of guilty, saying that he only shot to scare his wife.

Frank B. Johnson, pretending to represent Davis, Allen & Co., of Toledo, Ohio, established a collecting agency at Decatur, inducing merchants to become members by paying $2.50 and taking their accounts for collection. After securing about $400 he fled from Decatur, and was captured at Versailles, Ohio. After his flight it developed that there was no such firm in Toledo as Davis, Allen & Co.

BODIES RECOVERED.

Two of Them Taken From the Missouri River.

OREGON, Mo., May 22.—The bodies of both the Chambers girls, drowned in the Missouri river at Bartlett, Iowa, some ten days ago, have been found. The body of Charlotte, aged seventeen, was caught by Dan Ellisbiro, a fisherman, in his net, and the body of the ten-year-old girl was caught about thirty miles south of here. These girls were half sisters, both daughters of C. M. Chambers, living near Bartlett, Iowa, and the youngest was the daughter of Mrs. Wolenberger, of this city, who formerly was C. M. Chambers' wife. The girls were mysteriously drowned, but their friends think it was a case of suicide on the part of the older girl, and that she drew the younger in with her purposely. Charlotte's clothing was found securely pinned together near the knees and the sleeves of her dress were securely pinned to her shoulders, indicating either that she had thus secured them herself to avoid involuntary escaping death when she would make the fatal leap into the water, or else that foul play was had with her, and that her clothes were so pinned by some one to deceive others and to conceal their crime.

A number of officers of the Uniformed Rank, K. P., of this city, will attend the meeting of the Indiana Brigade at Indianapolis on June 4.

The Epworth League of the Berry street M. E. church held a business meeting last night and elected J. F. Schell vice president and chairman of the social department of the league. They also voted to pay $200 towards the current expenses of the church for this year. Eighty-three dollars of this amount was raised last night.

The Fort Wayne commandery of Knights Templar will observe Ascension day by attending in a body the special service Thursday evening, at 7:30, in the Plymouth Congregational church. The ritual of the commandery will be used, some special music will be rendered by Mrs. Culbertson and the choir, and the address will be given by Rev. J. S. Ainslie. The service is open to the public.

Last evening at her home, in Lakeside, Miss Fanny Lowry entertained a number of her friends. The guessing of authors of quotations was the game of the evening, and the prize, a handsome gold pin, was awarded to Miss Alice Habecker. A dainty luncheon was served at 11 o'clock. Those present were Mrs. Elsie A. Hall and the Misses Alice Habecker, Kate Able, Lilian Fisk, Kate Beebe, Mattie Clark and Frank Muirhead.

Mrs. Rev. Dr. Eldridge, of Anderson, wife of the former pastor of the Wayne street M. E. church, arrived in the city today, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. McCurdy for a few days. Mrs. Eldridge comes to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the North Indiana M. E. conference, which convenes in this city tonight for a two days' session. She is on the program as one of the speakers.

Monday evening at the home of Alice Hess, of Elizabeth street, a few friends participated in a general good time, it being the occasion of Miss Alice's birthday. Dancing was indulged in till a late hour, when refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Mary Hunsche, Maggie Bopp, Stella Solliday, Maud Myers, Sophia Klenkie, Katie Hunsche, Lena Mathias, Fannie Tarmon, Laura Hess, and Alice Hess; Messrs. George Barr, Harry McCullom, Henry Hunsche, Dan Marquedt, George Feustel, Link Solliday, Will Suggs John Bryant, Charley Bopp, Al. Sinclair, Theodore Trenkley.

A woman reporter has interviewed several notable women as to their preferences in gems. Mme. Patti declared for diamonds, though she added that the opal with its bluish tint exercised a great charm for her. Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt put diamonds above all others, and admitted that she greatly admired moonstones. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller favored diamonds, pearls and amethysts, these three, but believed if she was forced to a choice she would declare for pearls. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt said that pearls were her favorite gems, while Mrs. William Astor thought that of all stones the diamond was certainly the most beautiful.

The social gatherings of the Epworth League of the Wayne street M. E. church are always a success, as are in fact any movement or enterprise that they take hold of, and so it is not to be wondered at that they could give a successful lawn social when the thermometer was away down below the freezing point, as it was last night when they held their lawn social at the home of Mr. O. B. Wright, No. 51 West Butler street. There were nearly 100 young people present, and the evening was spent in a most delightful manner. The lawn was lit up with Chinese lanterns and a large locomotive headlight, but the air was chilly and uncomfortable, and for that reason the guests spent the evening within doors in a social manner. Refreshments were served by the ladies, and at 11 o'clock the young people dispersed delighted with the hospitable manner in which Mr. Wright had entertained them.

Counterfeiter Sentenced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 22.—Wm. J. Farron, alias Dean, was sentenced to four years in Folsom for counterfeiting by United States Judge Hawley. Farron was postmaster at The Needles, Cal. The indictment against his wife was dismissed.

Charles House, of Boonville, in a fit of anger, drove his wife away. He then loaded a shotgun, and connecting his toe with the trigger by means of a string, he lodged the contents of the gun in his heart, dying instantly.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Fire Breaks Out in the Standard Wheel Works.

Conductor George Fosler Makes a Profitable Investment—Nickel Plate Puts on a Gravel Train.

Henry Bittel, watchman at the Standard Wheel works, discovered a small blaze in the dry kiln at 9 o'clock last night, among a pile of spokes, and by prompt application of a few buckets of water extinguished the flames before any damage resulted. An old woolen coat, of the knit variety, known as a "wampus," was lying near the scene of the fire and was mistaken for a bunch of waste. This led Watchman Bittel to believe that an attempt at incendiarism had been made, and soon all kinds of reports were in circulation. There was no waste about the dry kiln; neither was there any oil poured over the dry contents of the shed. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but Manager Crim, of the Standard, positively asserts it was not the work of fire bugs.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

George Fosler, conductor of the Wabash's New Haven train, is on the road to wealth, and it all came about through a little real estate investment in Ohio. Two months ago Mr. Fosler found himself in possession of $300 and immediately began to look for a safe place to invest it. After examining several bargains he concluded that the best one in the lot was a tract of land near Findlay and he bought it. Shortly afterwards the Standard Oil company, in prospecting for oil, unintentionally got onto Mr. Fosler's land and struck a "gusher" which produced 100 barrels a day. They operated this well some weeks before they discovered that it was not on their lands, and when they discovered the owner he was at once notified of his good fortune, with the additional statement that the Standard people were ready and willing to take the land at a handsome figure. Mr. Fosler is now at Findlay looking after his interests. This good fortune falls upon an honest, hardworking man and one whose head will not be "turned" by it. Mr. Fosler commenced service with the Wabash as a brakeman in 1879 and by steady work and economy was enabled to save the little sum which now promises to yield such an enormous interest.

THE NICKEL PLATE'S GRAVEL TRAIN.

The Nickel Plate put on another gravel train this morning, whose crew will have their headquarters at Burr Oaks, on the west end of the line. The crew is as follows: Conductor Houder, Engineer Charles Titus, and Brakemen J. A. Halstead, F. E. Long and M. Henry. Conductor Wink, with the assistance of A. F. Young and A. B. Ferguson, will have charge of the steam shovel and the pit. Engine 36 will haul the train.

NICKEL PLATE BASE BALL CLUB.

The employes of the Nickel Plate round house and yard office have organized a base ball club and are now open to challenge from any amateur club of the city. Frederick Matz is the captain and all challenges and communications should be addressed to him. The players have been assigned as follows: Frederick Matz, catcher; Harry Beuser, pitcher; Clarence Bodson, first base; Joseph Whittles, second base; Frank Beall, third base; Clifford Smith, short stop; Joseph Deahl, left field; John McVey, center field, and Andrew Daley, right field. All are young athletes and they will put up a good ball game.

BRIEF MENTION.

C. C. Adams, Pittsburg yard engineer, is sick and off duty.

A. J. Boswell left for Fort Smith, Ark., on the Wabash train last night.

After a few days' sickness Brakeman VanMeter is again working on the Nickel Plate.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Minser—a son. The father is a Nickel Plate fireman.

Ed Smith, tinsmith in the Pittsburg shops, has gone to Philadelphia to attend the funeral of his father.

Michael Collins has taken a position in the Bass blacksmith shop, under Gang Foreman Jacob Haushach.

Trainmaster C. E. Wells and Detective J. D. Sollitt, of the Wabash, came up from Peru with the Ringling circus.

Conductor Malott has taken the Wabash's New Haven run during the absence of George Fosler, who is at Findlay.

Stock of the Little Miami division of the Pennsylvania lines is now selling at $173 per share, the highest point in its history.

Nickel Plate Conductor Frost, who for some time had a short run out of Bellevue, has returned to a through freight run.

H. C. Lebrman has resigned a position in the Wabash machine shop to take a position as brakeman on the Pittsburg road.

D. L. Carpenter has resigned his position in the Wabash shops and will go to Lincoln, Neb., where one of his sons are living. He will work at his trade, that of house building, in that city.

William Zutermeister, of the electric works, and his wife will go to Richmond tomorrow to visit the former's mother.

The old story that the Wagner and the Pullman companies are to consolidate their interests has been revived by the eastern press.

Tine Kreisinger, who was off duty several days looking after some private affairs, resumed work in the Pittsburg car shops this morning.

Wabash engineer John Carroll is out today, breaking in Findlay engine No. 4, which has just been turned out of the shops after a general overhauling.

M. Safford, agent of the Wabash at Worth, Ill., has resigned and will enter the service of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, his home being in Attica, Ind.

S. C. Downer and John Kay, Nickel Plate brakemen, who were off duty several days on account of sickness in their families, resumed work yesterday.

East bound shipments last week amounted to 40,523 tons, against 43,931 tons of the previous week and 47,523 for the corresponding week of last year.

Frank C. Turner, tinsmith in the Pittsburg shops, is laying off for the double purpose of looking after some private business and attending the show.

Charley Seibt left for New York, over the Pennsylvania this morning, to assist in the erection of several large engines, which were built by the Bass works.

E. Pinney, for many years a passenger conductor on the Michigan Central, western division, has gone into business at Maxville, Kan., with a brother as partner.

Many of the employes in the blacksmith, the copper and the boiler departments of the Pittsburg shops laid off today to attend the funeral of Mrs. Henry Lageman.

The Wabash sold fifteen homeseekers' tickets to points in Kansas, Texas and Missouri yesterday. So far this is the best sale of the season and is considered pretty good.

The Great Northern has located an excursion bureau at Boston and placed A. C. Harvey in charge of it. He will also have charge of the affairs of the Northern Steamship company.

P. Brussard, an employe of the Pittsburg shops, had the little finger of his right hand mashed so badly this morning that amputation was necessary. Drs. Stemen attended the sufferer.

The electric works this morning shipped two No. 10 dynamos, of 150 light capacity each, to the Georgia Electric Light company, Atlanta, Ga. These machines are Mr. J. J. Woods' latest patent.

Michael Duffy and James Armstrong are in jail at Warsaw, charged with stealing a trunk out of the Pennsylvania baggage room at that place last Thursday. They were arrested by the company's detective, Doc Stoll.

Today a new spray white-washing machine was tried in the Wabash shops and it did its work perfectly. The sprayer is operated by compressed air, the same as the portable light drill machines used in locomotive building.

J. F. Long, the Nickel Plate brakeman who was so unfortunate as to have one of his ankles badly sprained on March 13, has reported for work and went out on a through freight train with Conductor Denbow this morning.

One of the passenger conductors on the Wabash, who commenced as brakeman, is a son of A. A. Talmage, who was for several years general manager of the Wabash road. The son's ambition is to reach the eminence as a railroad man that his father did.

William Steuart, of Danville, Ill., proprietor of a foundry and machine shop, is the guest of his father-in-law, Robert Dickey. Mr. Steuart is en route to Europe, the home of his boyhood, where he will spend three months. Twenty years ago he resided in this city and was a gang foreman in the Wabash shops. He called at that place today to see his old shopmates.

During the month of April the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association, on the lines west of Pittsburg, paid out $2,250 on deaths from accidents, $5,000 on deaths from natural causes; in disablement benefits from accidents, $7,266; in sickness benefits, $7,285, making the disbursements of the month, $21,636.30. Eight hundred and nine members or their legal heirs have drawn benefits.

Nickel Plate trainmen report the destruction by fire of a farm house a mile east of Brisston, Ohio. The owners of the property were newcomers and had just recently purchased a small tract of land and put up a small house upon it. The fire broke out at 9 o'clock in the morning while the man and woman were at work in the field and their three little children narrowly escaped burning to death.

THE EIGHT HOUR DAY.

Hon. Robert Porter Makes a Strong Plea for Its Adoption.

"What's the Use of Educating Men if You Don't Give Them Time to Read?" is One of His Points.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 22.—The morning session of the Amalgamated association convention was an open one. Mayor McKisson delivered a brief address of welcome to the delegates, in which he spoke strongly in favor of organized labor. Delegate David Armstrong responded in a happy vein to the mayor's address, after which Hon. Robert P. Porter, late superintendent of the census, spoke. He urged the necessity of the workingmen in standing for the eight-hour working day. "What is the use," he said, "of educating a man if you don't give him time to read? Why instruct him about the government if you don't give him time to think? Why improve his home and make it attractive if he can't see his wife and children by daylight. Eight hours keeps wages up, because it improves the moral stamina of the people."

The next speaker was Wm. A. Carney, one of the delegates, who also spoke in favor of eight hours for a day's work. "The bringing of great minds into the field is the result of organization," he said. "The hour is not far distant when we shall see such a cohesion as this world has never seen. We see it in the lessons of the past and we cannot afford to ignore them."

PRINCESS LOUISE

Entertains at Buckingham Palace in Behalf of the Queen.

London, May 22.—The Princess Louise (marchioness of Lorne), third daughter of Queen Victoria, held the last drawingroom of the season today at Buckingham palace in behalf of the queen. The princess of Wales, who was previously announced to have been selected for this honor, is understood to be indisposed. The attendance was small. The following Americans were present: Miss Herbert, daughter of the Hon. Hillery Herbert, secretary of the United States navy, who was presented in the diplomatic circle, and Mrs. Draper, wife of Congressman Draper, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Neal and the Misses Peck, of Chicago, were presented in the general circle.

GETTING EVEN.

Enraged School Children Wreak their Vengeance.

New York, May 23.—Eight hundred east side school children, enraged over being swindled out of five cents apiece, tore the interior decorations of the new Henry hall to pieces. They also ripped down the stage in the hall, smashed every window in the place, broke chairs and did other damage amounting in all to about $300. Flattering circulars had been distributed announcing a "grand bijou entertainment," and promising every child a handsome present free. Instead of the elaborate presents mentioned, each child as he or she entered the hall received a brass ring of the sort that comes in penny chewing gum packages, and the youngsters were angry. A number of arrests were made as a result of the destruction.

SMASHED THE RECORD.

DeCardy Pushes His Bicycle Ten Miles in Twenty-four Minutes.

Chicago, May 22.—On the Garfield Park bicycle course last night William DeCardy smashed the ten mile record down ten seconds making the distance in 24:02. DeCardy is a Chicago man, a member of the Morgan and Wright team. The time keepers were F. W. Morgan, Frank Fowley, Percy J. Clark, W. J. Anderson and John West.

Oscar Wilde's Trial.

London, May 22.—The second trial of Oscar Wilde was begun in the Old Bailey court before Justice Wills. There was a dense crowd of interested spectators present in the court room. Wilde was very restless and looked worried and careworn. The solicitor general, Sir Frank Lockwood, in opening the case for the treasury, said that the indictment covered acts of gross indecency during the period extending from February to October, 1893. He then recited the charges made against Wilde in connection with Edward Shelly, Alfred Woods and others.

Indiana Postmasters.

Washington, May 22.—The following Indiana postmasters were appointed: English, Starke county, Andrew Vanoskey, vice Willard Wilson, removed; New Lancaster, Tipton county, B. F. Hinds, vice Jacob Quear, resigned; River, Huntington county, J. M. Lantz, vice John Minton, removed.

Patents for Indiana Inventors.

Washington, May 22.—Patents were granted to Indiana inventors as follows: B. M. Surrall, Terre Haute, assignee, cushioned horseshoe; Thomas C. Cadwagon, Anderson, machine for washing and preparing paper stock; Joseph H. Colvin, Richmond, snow or ice remover for railways; Edgar Henley and J. H. Lukens, Richmond, veterinary device; Lucian E. Oakes, Bloomington, support for incubator thermometer; Britton Penlson, Fort Wayne, reversible rod roller.

West India Will Levy a Tariff Upon American Goods.

Washington, May 22.—A report to the state department from Consul Tate at Barbarde, West Indies, states that the proposed new tariff, which he submitted in a statement recently, has been agreed to. In addition to the increase duty upon American goods which he gave at that time, there has been an increase on dried and salt fish of twenty cents per 112 pounds, and on rice of thirty-six cents per 100 pounds. Molasses, formerly free, is twenty-four cents per gallon, and sugar, formerly free, is $2.40 per 100 pounds.

Ex-Sheriff Dead.

New York, May 22.—Ex-Sheriff John J. Gorman, who was stricken with paralysis Saturday night, is dead, at the age of seventy-six years. He was a fire commissioner from 1881 to 1883 and from the latter year until 1890 was a police justice, and in 1890 he was elected sheriff.

Bound Over.

London, May 22.—At the Marlborough street police court this morning the marquis of Queensbury and his son, Lord Douglass, of Hawick, were bound over each in $500 bail to keep the peace. Their appearance in the police court today was the result of their encounter yesterday afternoon in Piccadilly.

Congressman Dying.

Washington, May 22.—General Cogswell is much worse today. He is unconscious much of the time and is sinking steadily. His relatives and friends realize his dangerous condition and are apprehensive of the end within a few hours.

National Convention at Boston, July 10-14, Via Wabash Railroad.

A great number of the members of the Christian Endeavor societies of Fort Wayne have expressed a desire to join the Official Train of the state of Indiana, which will be run over the WABASH road to Detroit, thence by Canadian Pacific to Montreal, through the White Mountains, etc., to Boston.

In order that those wishing to join this Official Train and receive the many extra attentions to be accorded it en route, it is necessary to call at the Wabash Ticket Office, telephone No. 6, and enroll names. The Official Train will consist of eight elegant Vestibuled Sleeping Cars and will be given precedence on the road, thus avoiding delays and annoyances. This tour will include a rail ride on the northern shore of St. Lawrence river (or steamer if preferred), a visit to the old city of Montreal, a trip through the White Mountains, taking both sides, etc. Returning, the choice of several scenic and direct routes will be given. Remember, the above is the Official Route selected by the Indiana Society of Christian Endeavor and surpasses all others. A complete detailed map of the city of Boston, together with other interesting literature pertaining to this tour, will be given to all applicants at Wabash Ticket Office. 22-2t

FOR LAW AND ORDER.

Two Hundred Residents of Milwaukee Organize a Society.

Milwaukee, May 23.—About 200 people interested in maintaining law and order and the suppression of vice met at Calvary Presbyterian church last night and organized "The Society for the Suppression of Crime." Those present represented nearly all the professions, though the religious element predominated. It was proposed to unite with the Municipal league, but a short discussion developed the fact that the two, while having much in common, could probably do more effective work as separate organizations. An adjournment was taken until next Monday night, when officers will be elected.

Situation Critical.

Yokohama, May 23.—Advices received here from Seoul, the capital of Corea, dated May 20, say that the situation there is critical. The premier has resigned, and the minister of the interior has applied to the representatives of the foreign powers for assistance. The residences of the late regent and the king's father, who is also leader of the anti-Japanese party, are surrounded by police, and all entrance to or exit from their dwellings is forbidden.

Strike Over.

Pearson, Ohio, May 22.—The strike inaugurated in this district May 1, to fight against the reduction of mining wages from two to one and three fourths cents per bushel, is over. The Syracuse miners at last succumbed and accepted the reduction and resumed work this morning.

Took His Life.

St. Louis, May 22.—Because of illness Patrick F. Scollard, aged sixty-one, a well known democratic politician, committed suicide last night. He shot himself in the head.

✣ JUNIOR SUITS. ✣

We have just closed out some 300 of these stylish suits for the little boys from 3 to 7 years of age from an Eastern Manufacturer, and shall offer them at the following low prices:

$2.00 For neat, light and dark effects, in all wool fabrics, neatly braided and trimmed. Usual price $3.00

$3.00 For fine Clay Worsteds and Serges; also light colors in all wool Cassimeres, all elegantly made and trimmed—usual price $5.00.

Our fine grades of Children's Suits at $4, $5, $6 and upwards are superior in every way to those offered by other dealers. Compare the style, make and finish of our children's clothing with the so-called "Best Clothing on Earth" and it won't take you long to see that OUR'S is the best.

Boys' Waists and Blouses.

An incomparable line at the lowest prices ever named for similar qualities. It will pay you to see the waists and blouses we are selling at 35c, 39c, 50c, 75c and $1.

OUR GREAT SALE OF

All Wool Suits For Men At $8.88

Is making us friends and customers every day. Other dealers are imitating us by selling goods at similar prices, but the quality of the goods they offer are not in it with ours. The quality we offer will cost you from $10 to $15 in any other establishment in Fort Wayne.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—For Indiana: Fair and warmer tonight and Thursday; fresh southerly winds.

NEWS NOTES.

There was another heavy frost last night.

M. S. Mahurin, the architect, is at South Bend.

Al. Siegfried is in the city from Muncie, Ind.

William Murphy was a plain drunk sent to jail for eleven days this morning by Mayor Oakley.

Superintendent Liggett and Captain Borgman are home from their trip to the Northern penitentiary.

The street commissioner's force, including that under the park superintendent, was paid yesterday. The roll amounted to $1,100.

The local lodge of Elks have rented one of the lodge halls in the new Lau building, now under construction. They will fit it up in elaborate style.

Superintendent Johnson, of the School for Feeble Minded Youth, will soon leave for the east to attend a meeting of superintendents at Hartford, Conn.

The aged mother of Triston Chapman is lying very ill at her home south of the city. Mrs. Chapman is one of the pioneer residents of the county and is eighty-nine years of age.

Deputy Sheriff Harrod was in Valparaiso day before yesterday looking for a man who had committed a theft in this city. He was unsuccessful, however, and came home empty handed.

General Secretary McCaughey, of the City Y. M. C. A., and General Secretary Burns, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., have returned from the national meeting of secretaries, held at Springfield, Mass.

Boys in the south part of the city caught thirth-five rats Saturday and Sunday and drowned them in a barrel. Yesterday they sent for Mr. Brown, the poundmaster, who carted off the unusual load.

H. B. Hanmore, press agent for Ringlinger Brothers' circus, was in the city this morning, calling on the newspaper fraternity. He was formerly connected with the St. Paul Pioneer Press and is a very pleasant gentleman.

Mrs. Longnecker has sold through Romy & Bolilyn, lots 1 and 2, in Longnecker's addition, to Messrs. Billison and Leonard, of the Bessey Hardware Co. The consideration was $2,500. The purchasers will erect two dwelling houses.

The Huntington Democrat says: "Samuel Morris, of Fort Wayne, a member of the law firm of Morris, Bell, Barrett & Morris, was in the city this morning.—Judge Lowry, of Fort Wayne, is in the city today transacting legal business."

The regular league games of base ball played yesterday resulted as follows: Cleveland 13, Brooklyn 7; St. Louis 1, New York 14; Louisville 7, Baltimore 8; Pittsburg 10, Washington 7; Chicago 2, Philadelphia 15; Cincinnati 10, Boston 7.

This morning a party of bicyclists came in from Albion to attend the circus, headed by Mr. Randall, of Avilla. Among them we distinguished Messrs. Frank Askew, Woodward Hayes, Eliser, Harry Prentiss, Barnum and Frank Clapp.

Mrs. Lydia Rupert will be buried tomorrow afternoon, the services at the house being held at 2 o'clock and at 2:30 from the First Baptist church. The funeral will be under the auspices of Queen Esther lodge, No. 324, Daughters of Rebekah, and the Relief corps, of which the deceased was an honored member. Rev. S. A. Northrop will deliver the funeral sermon at the church.

At an early hour this morning Chief Detective Charles Ryan, of Ringling's circus, called at the police station and had a pleasant chat with Superintendent Liggett. Detective Ryan has four detectives under him and told Mr. Liggett that so far this season there had been no large robberies in connection with the show. There has been some petty stealing, but nothing of any consequence. This is largely due to the efficient work of Detective Ryan and his men.

FAUST HOUSE.

Mrs Morgan, of Holton avenue, is quite ill.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Casey, of 299 East Creighton Avenue, a ten pound son.

The officers at the police station are learning to ride a bicycle of the "Gendron" pattern, left them for trial.

Colonel Gore last evening inspected the Wayne True Blues at their armory. From here he goes to Waterloo to inspect the state militia at that place.

Fort Wayne Commandery Knights Templar, will attend Ascension services tomorrow evening at the Congregational church, corner Harrison and Jefferson streets. The pastor, the Rev. J. S. Ainslie, will conduct the services.

The Valparaiso Messenger says: "Deputy Sheriff Harrod, of Fort Wayne, was in the city last night in search of two criminals who were thought to be located here, but the parties suspected proved not to be the ones wanted.—A. D. Cressler, president of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, of Fort Wayne, is visiting Mr. J. W. Stratton."

Mesdames Charles Krueger and William Biehl and Mr. Julius Koch were made members of Degree of Honor, No. 2, A. O. U. W., last evening. The recorder also read five applications for membership and they were referred to investigating committees. The program committee reported that every arrangement had been made for the success of the dramatic entertainment to be given in their hall on Tuesday evening of next week. Aside from the drama, there will be recitations, instrumental and vocal music, etc. After the conclusion of the program a general good time will be indulged in by those who desire to remain.

The Allen County Building and Loan association held its annual business meeting and elected officers last evening. The secretary showed a good increase of business over that of last year. The election of officers resulted in the choice of the following new board: Gottlieb Haller, Charles S. Bash, H. A. Keplinger, O. N. Heaton, Thomas DeVilbiss, Julius Nathan, D. N. Foster, Charles Newton, Daniel Klotz, Charles W. Orr, F. L. Jones. After adjournment of the stockholders' meeting the new board met and organized by the election of Gottlieb Haller as president; Charles S. Bash, vice president; J. C. Rogers, secretary, and H. A. Keplinger, treasurer.

The city bacteriologist has just completed the work of analyzing seventy specimens of milk from Fort Wayne dairy wagons. He finds that while the majority of dealers sell milk of a wholesome character, yet there are a number who sell skim milk and of a quality which is in violation of the law. These milk men will be carefully watched and a second offense means prosecution. There will be no "bluffs" as heretofore. The city bacteriologist will now begin to examine the milk sold by families who keep one or two cows and sell to their neighbors. Regarding the published statement that 100 wells would be condemned by the board of health, this body states that they have only had ten wells examined and one condemned.

STATE TAX BOARD.

It Meets to Close Up the Business of the Fiscal Year.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Tax Case Comes Up and a Compromise Suggested.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22.—The state tax board met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of closing up some unsettled business. The board desires to enter upon the important work of the present year with as clean a docket as possible and all the old cases will be cleared up if possible.

The meeting yesterday was for the purpose of settling two railroad cases. The dispute with the Grand Rapids road was considered and a compromise suggested by the road was discussed. The board says all its rolling stock is taxed on the section of the road north of Fort Wayne, and, therefore, no rolling stock would be taxed on the leased section between Fort Wayne and Cincinnati. It is willing, however, to pay $500 per mile by way of compromise. The board insists that this shall be paid for the past four years and paid at once. In the absence of the general attorney for the road nothing was done and another meeting will be held in a short time.

The attorney general was instructed to bring suit against the Illinois and Indiana Southern road for the $11,000, which the road owes the state for delinquent taxes.

HOOSIER TRAGEDY.

William Snelling, an Aged Farmer, Found Dead on the Public Highway.

ANDERSON, Ind., May 22.—At Summitville, early this morning, William Snelling, sixty years old, the best known man in this vicinity, was found murdered and hanging over the dashboard of his buggy. His skull had been crushed with two clubs, which were near by. It is thought that Snelling was mistaken for a wealthy stock buyer and was murdered by mistake.

FRANCE Knows A GOOD THING!

We have just received a copy of a circular letter issued by "Le Metropole" (M. M. Marie et Cie), of Paris, one of the most prominent if not the leading bicycle manufacturers of France, to their agents, stating that hereafter they will supply on all their machines no tires but the

G. & J. Detachable Tires,

BUT THAT IS NOT ALL—

The Great International Match Race between Buffel and Vanderbrooke, an event of great interest in France, was won by Buffel, who rode a machine fitted with

G. & J. Wood Rim Tires

AND HERE AT HOME—

RIDERS of G. & J. TIRES WON,

First, second, first time and second time prizes in the East Denver Wheel Club 10-Mile Road Race.

Both firsts in the two road races held at Red Wing, Minn., May 8th.

Two firsts and one second in three events at Knoxville, Tenn., May 4th—D. of T. Field Day.

AS WE HAVE SAID BEFORE—

G. & J. TIRES are all right—So are G. & J. Wood Rims.

"THE MANUAL" and "PNEUMATIC JOE MILLERS" upon application.

Of course, you can have G. & J. Tires with any bicycle by simply demanding it and not allowing the agent to substitute something "just as good," on medium grade bicycles they will cost you $5.00 extra, on high grade bicycles no dealer will dare to charge you extra for them.

Better still, buy a Rambler, then you will have a G. & J. Bicycle and G. & J. Tires. Both are the best. Rambler riders who have tried other wheels say so. A. C. Kall sells them.
